Idée Québec$$$$

La tribune Idée Québec est un nouveau site Web de recherche qui offre à ses membres l'occasion de répondre à des sondages en ligne. Idée Québec vous donne la chance de jouer un rôle important dans le développement de produits et de services et de prendre des décisions qui affectent le monde des consommateurs. Avec idée Québec chaque membre devient un innovateur. Devenir membre d'Idée Québec vous rend admissible à gagner des primes en argent comptant et des prix. En moyenne vous recevrez un sondage par semaine. Ce qui est beaucoup comparé à certains panels. Idée Québec appartient à Hotspex, qui est une compagnie Canadienne qui œuvre dans le domaine du sondage en ligne depuis plusieurs années. Leur réputation sur internet est excellente, c'est une compagnie honnête et sérieuse avec un excellent service à la clientèle. Idée Québec est différent des autres panels en ce sens que les sondages ne portent que sur des nouveaux produits et leurs sondages sont les plus intéressants et amusants à compléter de l'industrie. De plus lorsque vous avez atteint 10$ vous pouvez faire une demande de paiement, ce qui est très bas. Donc je recommande fortement cette compagnie pour les récompenses, leurs sérieux et surtout pour le plaisir que vous aurez à compléter leurs sondages (humour, animation, interactivité).

McGill Male Body Image Survey (montreal)

Thus far, the study of men's body image has been largely restricted to the dimensions of adiposity and muscularity. Recent research has found that features such as head hair, body hair, height and penis size may be important in one's evaluation of self, with penis size satisfaction being highly correlated to overall appearance self-esteem.

However, little is known about the specific role that 'male genital satisfaction' plays in male body image concerns, and which aspects of the genital area, beyond size, may be important for these 'genital perceptions' (satisfaction with one's genital area).

We are a team of researchers at McGill University in Montreal, Canada, investigating this issue. This study will determine which features of the genital area are important for 'genital perceptions' and male body image, and further investigate the factors that may influence one's evaluations and perceptions (ex: sexual experience, erectile dysfunctions, premature ejaculation, STD's etc.). To do this, we need you to take this short 20 minute survey assessing your level of satisfaction regarding your body in general and various aspects of the genital area.

Your participation in this study will help health professionals better understand the factors involved in male body concerns and further on, their relation to sexuality (given the presumed central role of the genitals in a sexual context), guiding future research and treatment.

By participating, you will also be able to enter a drawing for one of three $100 prizes to spend at amazon.com!

Please note that you will be asked to measure the length and girth (circumference) of your flaccid AND erect penis, and asked to estimate the angle of penile curvature and direction of your erect penis, thus it may be preferable to assess these features before starting this survey. Please click on the following link in order for a description of the measurements and protocol to follow: <http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/penilemeasurement>

This study is only for men 18 years of age and older.

Survey link: <http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/genitalperception>

For further information, you may email us at atmcgill.urology@gmail.com

Your help is greatly appreciated! We thank you for taking the time to read about our study
